THE ATLANTA ROLLING MILLS .- The valuable machinery for rolling railroad iron, which was at one time located at Atlanta (Ga.), and which was afterwards removed from that point for military reasons, has, it would appear from the following which we copy from the Wilmington (N. C.) Journal of Friday, turned up at that point, where it is thought they will be permanently located. We do not know the particular object the parties may have in view in taking them to that point, but it may be in anticipation of procuring coal and iron from the North Carolina deposits of these minerals which lie conven ent to the Cape Fear River above

The Journal says: We are pleased to announce that the above mills will shortly be located at this place, the removal We are pleased to announce that the above mills will shortly be located at this place, the removal from Atlanta having been determined on. Part of the machinery has already arrived; the remainder will probably follow in a few days. They are quito extensive works, and are owned by the Wilmington and Weldon and South Carolina Railroad Companies, John Fraser & Co., of Charleston, and probably others. The works are used for rolling out railroad iron—straightening those bars which have become bent or otherwise injured.

The announcement of the removal of these extensive works affords us much satisfaction, as it will have the effect of increasing our population at least one thousand, and will also increase the receipts of our railroad companies from the fact that many roads in the South have the work upon their disabled bars performed at these mills.

We are not at present in receipt of information as regards the site selected for the erection of the works, if, indeed, the selection has been made, but it will, no doubt, be convenient of access from the river and the several railroad depots.

In the spring of 1867 the people of Virginia will have to elect a Governor, a Lieutenant Governor, an Attorney General, a full delegation of Congress men and Merabers of the General Assembly. Many Virginians now living in Western and Gulf States are expected soon to return to the "Old Dominton." Such is the tenor of letters that go back from her wandering children.

The Habeas Corpus Case in Baltimore.

(From the Baltimore Sun, of Friday.)
The return on the write of habeas corpus in the made by the Warden of the jail yesterday morning | result of Tuesday's elections, remarks: her daughter, while out riding on Thursday last, near Orangeburg, were killed by two negroes, who knocked them in the head with an axe. The mur- on warrants issued by Judge Bond, of the Crimiderers were arrested, and are on their way to nal Court, last Saturday, for alleged criminal proceedings, at the instance of parties acting, as is well known, in the interest of the old Commissioners, Messrs. Hindes and Wood, removed by the Governor for cause, but rofusing to vacate their office. It appears by the proceedings of yesterday that two sets of commitments had been made out in the cases respectively of the Commissioners. In addition to those of Saturday, another, or amended form of commitment, was made in each case on Monday. The amended commitment charges them with having unlawfully conspired together, and with unknown persons, by force and arms, and with a strong band, to expel, remove, and put out Samuel Hindes and Nicholas L. Wood, police commissioners of the city of Baltimore, from the office, building and property, now occupied and possessed by thom as such police commissioners. The roturn in the sheriff's case recites that he is held by virtue of commitments issued by the Criminal Court, charging him with attempting to incite a rout and riot, and with conspiring with others to incite a rout and riot, and with conspiring with others to incite a rout and riot, by calling an unlawful assemblage. To these charges counsel had to plead; and on the part of the commissioners it is asserted in the ceedings, at the instance of parties acting, as is CONFEDERATE VESSELS RESTORED .- A dispatch from Fortress Monroe states that, in accordance with instructions from . Quartermaster-General MEIGS, Lieutenant-Colonel WEYTAL, the United States Quartermaster at this post, has made a final disposition of all the water transportation in his department. The United States tug Mosswood roceeds to Baltimore to-morrow, where she will so sold at Government auction sale, and probably be bought in by agents of the Treasury Department, to be converted into a revenue cutter. The tug Geneva and the barges Hope and James R. Gould, will be turned over to Colonel Loomis, agent of the Treasury Department at Richmond, and by him transferred to their former Confederate owners.

and by him transferred to their former Confederate owners.

This tug Geneva was formerly the Kahukce, a sort of gunboat in the Confederate service, and was set on fire and burned to the water's edge at the evacuation of Norfolk and its occupation by General Wool. The barges Hope and James R. Gould, both built of iron, were also sunk. All three beats were taken in charge by the Quartermaster's Department, and repaired. The Geneva was to have been converted into a gunboat, for General Graham's army gunboat ficilla, but was afterwards converted into a water boat, it is said, at an expenditure of $50,000.

In the Fourth District Court the validity of Con-In the Fourth District Court the validity of Confederate money, as a consideration, has again been brought into question. The case was that of 8. Oser vs. Nugent & Co. and Wm. H. Dunbar. The suit was on a draft of Dunbar, accepted by Nugent & Co. in 1861. The defence was that no consideration was given for the draft, as the money, for which it was given, was Confederate money, Judge Theard gave judgment for plaintiffs upon the grounds: 18t. That it was in evidence that, as consideration for this draft, no Confederate money was paid, but that Oser gave his check, which was deposited in bank, to the credit of Nugent and Co. who used it in the usual course of business. 2d, That, if the check had been paid in Confederate mency, which was then current, defendant could not now come into court and tender any paper of that description, which they might purchase for a trifle. In accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the State in the Emerson case, they must produce the identical Confederate notes which they must produce the identical Confederate notes they must produce the identical Confederate notes which they received. As far as Dunbar is concerned, the Judge cursorily remarked that the drawer, as is well known, cannot plead want of consideration against a third party holding a note in good faith.

THE LONDON TIMES ON THE NEGRO. The London Times, in dilating on the subject of negro suffrage in the United States, savs :

suffrage in the United States, save:

Why cannot the negro be declared a citizen and invested with all the rights of a man? The real answer is that he is not a citizen, and cannot be made a citizen by a proclamation or a law. We have unfortunately had a little experience of our own in this matter. We gave the Jamaica negro, in common with his white master, civil equality, and the right of self-government, and see how it has ended. All the negro's instincts and habits go in the other direction. He is caroless, credulous and dependent; casily excited, easily duped, casily frightened; always the ready victim of the stronger will. He is material for the hands of anybody who wishes to make use of him. Invested with full political ribits, the race must be a magazine of mischief. In Jamaica it appears that the negroes would imbibe, at a day's notice, any body else; but what hey were always looking for was something to be given, or something to be done for them, or some law to make them all rich, happy land owners, and tax free forever. Such men are not citizens, call them so as we will.

CONGRESS MAY ABOLISH THE SOUTHERN STATE GOVERNMENTS .- Hon. George S. Boutwell delivered a lecture in Boston on Wednesday evening in favor of negro suffrage, in which he said that all the interests of business are centered in the freedmen and elevation of these people. Coming next to a discussion of the policy which the Fortieth Congress should adopt, Mr. Boutwell said two great ends must be brought about—first, universal suffrage. One way of obtaining this was by holding the States as they new are, until, by their own motion, they do justice to the colored people. Congress may abolish the governments, and declare who shall and who shall not vote. This is most likely the result to which the action of Congress now tends—the destruction of those false governments and the formation of constitutional governments. The next object to be accomplished was the punishment of the Precident, if he should be found guilty of unconstitutional acts. the interests of business are centered in the freed-

There is now no doubt that the fortieth Congress, to assemble in December of next year, will case of the two new Police Commissioners, Messrs. be composed of a large majority of Radicals. The VALIANT and Young, and Sheriff Thompson, was Philadelphia Inquirer (Radical), speaking of the result of Tuesday's elections, remarks:

The Congressional delegation in the fortieth Congress, it is now settled, will be about the same in party strength as it was in the thirty-ninth. The only change that has been made is in Maryland, and in that State the Republican loss is really only of one Congressman, the other, who is re-elected, having gene over to the Johnson policy some time ago. Delaware remains the same. New Jersey adds two to the Republican Congressmen. The New York delegation is about the same as in the present Congress. In Missouri there is a Republican gain of one Congressman, and in the States of Illinois, Minnesots, Michigan, Wisconsin and Nevada, according to the returns received, the returns will be in favor of the parties which were victorious in 1861. The elections on Tuesday gave about sixty-nine or seventy Republicans in the House of Representatives to twenty or twenty-one Democrats. With the members already, it is established beyond all doubt that in the House the Republicans will have considerably more than two-thirds of the members.

In the Senate there will be an increase of the Re-

In the Senate there will be an increase of the Republican strength. The loss of Senator Creswell in Maryland will be compensated by the election of a Republican in New Jersey. Illinois will elect a Republican Senator, Kansas will choose two, and Missouri, New York, Nevada, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin will each elect one. The next Senate will, therefore, stand forty-four Republicans to eight Democrats—more than a three-fourths majority for the former party. jority for the former party.

The President to General Throckmorton, of Texas.

The following is the reply of President Johnson to the inquiry of the Governor of Texas, whether one further steps were required to be taken by the authorities and people of that State to qualify it to resume its position in the Union:

resume its position in the Union:

Washington, October 30, 1866.—Gov. Throckmorton: Your telegram of the 29th instant just received. I have nothing further to suggest than urging upon the Legislature to make all laws involving civil rights as complete as possible, so as to extend equal and exact justice to all persons, without regard to color, if it has not been done. We should not despair of the republic. My faith is strong. My confidence is unlimited in the wisdom, prudence, virtue, intelligence and magnanimity of the great mass of the people; and that their ultimate decision will be uninfluenced by passion and prejudice, engendered by the late civil war, for the complete restoration of the Union by the admission of loyal Representatives and Sonators from all the States to the respective houses of the Congress of the United States.

Foreign Commerce.—The New York Evening Post of Thursday, the 8th inst., has the following marks on the commerce of the country :

remarks on the commerce of the country:

Our imports from England show an increase of 100 per cent, in the first eight months of the present year, he compared with the corresponding period of 1865. Taking into calculation the twenty-two principal commodities exported, their aggregate value to the 31st August las was upwards of £16,000,000 sterling, against less than £8,000,000 in the proceeding year. Of the remaining articles of exportation no account is yet compiled. With the exception of coals and sheep's wool, on each of which there is an unimportant decrease, every item exhibits an augmentation, and in some instances is of considerable magnitude, as, for example, on manufactures of cotton the amount is almost 14 million; on manufactures of linen, upwards of one million; on manufactures of iron and steel about the same; on manufactures of iron and steel about the same; on manufactures of wool, very nearly two millions. After them next in importance are alkali, on which the increase is £353,674; earthenware, £265,704; haberdashery, £452,301; hardwares and cutlery, £433,561; tin plates, £473,100; oil seed, £198,581; manufactures of silk, £122,397; cotton thread, £166,094; linen thread, £79,806; and salt, £56,646; the total not increase amounting to £8,333,799.

TELEGRAPH FAC-SIMILES.—Mr. Field has brought out to this country a number of very interesting specimens of the system of telegraphing now in peration between Paris and Lyons, and Paris and Bordeaux, by which exact copies of the message lowing from the New Orleans Crescent, of Wednes- are produced at either extremity of the lines solely by mechanical means. The message is written on prepared paper covered with a lead-colored sur-face, which is a non-conductor of the electric fluid, prepared paper covered with a lead-colored surface, which is a non-conductor of the electric fluid. The writing or drawing in the ink furnished for the purpose, changes the points touched by it to the opposite electrical character. The pendalum is swinging at each end of the circuit in unison. Its upper end is divided into points, say, like a fine-tooth comb. The message being passed over these at one end, sends a current to correspond with the writing on lines, and produces an exact copy of the original upon the prepared paper held to the vibrating pendulum in the distant city. Thus a facsimile of writing and signature is furnished without any skill of the operator. A drawing of the likeness of a thief or absconding clerk is reproduced with minute faithfulness. Patterns of machinery, patterns for bonnets, hieroglyphics, messages in Uninese, or in an unknown tongue, are copied with as little trouble as the simplest letters of a familiar alphabet. Some notices of this have been given in foreign journals; but no mere verbal description can convoy a full idea of the wonderful process. The Hibernian who inisted some years ago that the telegraph operator should forward his photograph over the wires to his sweetheart, was only a little ahead of his ago, since this can now be done without the slightest trouble, provided the likeness be taken on the proper material.—Journal of Commerce.

Use it a few tiran and PRESTO, CHANGE! the whitest and worst looking hair resumes its youthful beauty. It does not dye the hair, but sirlies at the roots, and fills it with new life and coloring matter.

It will not take a long, disagreeable trial to prove the truth of this matter. The first application will do good; you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and,

TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR.

BEFORE YOU KNOW IT. the old, gray, discolored appearances of the hair will be gone, giving place to lustrous, shining, and beautiful looks.
